Why ELLA?

Improve productivity

HR admins have to spend more hours than they'd like on mundane, transactional tasks. With ELLA, HR can say goodbye to those tedious to-dos and say hello to engaging in strategic and transformational tasks within their organisations.

Ensure HR data security

You can have peace of mind knowing your data is ring-fenced and secure with native authentication and authorisation across all data assets.

> Security and data protection are essential to build trust in HR software and for business continuity. With ELLA, HR data is fortified by robust security measures, adhering to industry standards and best practices. ELLA applies the same authentication and authorisation as used through the elementsuite application which only affords the right information access to the right people.

Take a leading role in organisational transformation

With low-risk, controlled rollout of ELLA, you can rest easy knowing you are in charge of how fast AI is integrated into your processes. Whether you'd like to have a go with ELLA role-by-role, it's all in HR's hands.

> ELLA has two key missions: increasing productivity in a changing world where the workforce talent pool is shrinking whilst ensuring data privacy and security are upheld at all times.

Steve Elcock, CEO of elementsuite

Keep it simple, keep all your data in one place

With ELLA, all your AI requirements are all together in one secure environment. At elementsuite, we're all about simplicity, and ELLA is just that – no complicated AI tech stacks. One environment, one source of truth, one secure data location.

Who is ELLA for?

ELLA empowers people in every corner of the organisation, whether it's HR admins or employees or managers, find out what ELLA can do for you.

For HR admins

With content generation abilities, ELLA is perfect for creating letters, contracts, job postings in your very own company tone and style.

ELLA can even provide those business insights that take HR teams to the next level, with a unique ability to provide trends, summaries and even management reporting.

Under the hood - How does it all work?

elementsuite layered architecture has, from the outset, been built to unlock AI grounding, with foundations that enable deep linking of form and function to code and configuration. Allowing predictions and metadata to be stored and analysed, elementsuite's object database facilitates powerful AI grounding through transversing 'elements' of HR.
